

In the Leadership Workshop, you will:

discover

- where in your life you are a leader
- yourself as a leader and the things that get in the way of you showing up as that leader
- how you see, and new ways of seeing, and how to apply all these aspects to and in your life...so that you can be the leader you are learn

- to see and experience your judgments, opinions and points of view...so that you are not ruled by them... and can move beyond them
- to include more in your life and interactions
- to work with dynamics of interaction... individually and in a group
- other ways of seeing

The weekend is about leadership from within and applying that to how we live our lives.

Participants will be required to perform a monologue and will have an experience of sitting in the leadership chair, working with another participant. We will look at what it is to be a leader, the dynamics of the room, how it feels, how you handle the responsibility, and where you stop seeing. As well as preparing a monologue, there is additional prep work, work that should be begun as soon as possible. Contact Jill for more information on the prep work.
